I think that the future of our world is in the hands of foreign language teachers, translators and interpreters. Therefore, in my opinion, all people living on Earth should know at least two languages - their native and one of the foreign languages. And I think that, if a foreigner wants to learn any of the languages spoken by citizens of the Russian Federation, then it is <sup>better</sup> ~~best~~ for him to learn Russian language, because it is spoken by a large part of the Russian population and it is used in international communication. Russian is a very beautiful language with an interesting history of its development. A foreigner, who knows Russian, will be able to read the works of great Russian literature in the original and join the culture of Russia. He will also be able to watch interesting Russian films and films that have become classics of Russian cinema. A foreigner, knowing Russian, will be able to work in Russia. So, a person, who wants to learn a language, has many reasons to choose Russian language for studying.
